

SR-IR BREAKFAST CLUB

An SRI-Connect product for listed companies

We facilitate the sharing of ideas and experiences between peer companies

Product details

We host quarterly meetings for groups of companies (typically within the same geography or sector) that enables them to share - with each other - what works and what doesn't in sustainable investor communications.

When you might need this

Companies use this service when they want to engage informally with sector and market peers to compare notes and experiences on how best to communicate on sustainability with investors

What we do

- Organise groups of up to 12 companies to meet (online or in person)
- Buy the coffee (for in person) meetings and start the conversation
- Add – where required – points of information to the conversation

How much it costs

- FREE

What we need from you

- A willingness to share your experiences with peer companies

What we deliver

- Nothing outside the meeting
- No presentations are given; no minutes are taken; breakfast clubs are informal experience-sharing opportunities.
